Royal Insurance Company.
FIRE AND LIFE.

CAPITAL TWO MILLIONS STERLING.

This important company, in many respects the greatest of its kind in the present age, has appointed an agency in this city. The head-offices are in London and Liverpool with branches in Dublin, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Manchester, Bristol, Birmingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Newcastle, Southampton, Montreal, Toronto and other cities.

The ROYAL is remarkable for the promptitude and liberality of its settlements: for the largest life bonuses (£2 per cent per annum) ever continuously declared during 15 years by any Co.; for the enormous extent of its transactions, shewing £ 00,000 in new life assurances for 1862, and a Fire revenue of £300,000 per annum; for its security, which has given rise to the proverb "as safe as the Royal;" for the accumulated funds in hand, over one million sterling; for its annual income, over half-a-million sterling; and for the correct calculation of its mortality tables. Hence the English press of all countries, including over 99 leading papers, speaks in the highest terms of this company.

The report for 1862 shews that all the property of the Co. amounting to £846,070 is real and substantial property:" the amount now exceeds one million sterling. The increase, during 14 years, on Fire business was 900 per cent, and on Life 1350 per cent.

MESSRS. H. A. GREEN AND Co. are authorised to issue policies for Fire and Life to a very large amount, at moderate premiums, the Co. being anxious to extend its foreign business, which already shews an annual revenue of £200,000. Life claims can be settled without reference to England. For further particulars please apply to

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The latest news in town is that a teniente-alcalde has been attacked by three fellows near a pulperia in the South, with an intent to rob him of some money which he had in his 'tirador;' the teniente, however, showed pluck, shot two of the aggressors, and then came into town. There are two very peculiar circumstances attending this business:—1st. The extraordinary fact that a teniente should be supposed to have money on his person, and—2d. That the gauchos should have so suddenly lost all respect for a class of officials which have hitherto held the most supreme sway in the partidos. Verily, there is a change, and a very important one, taking place in the camp districts when a gaucho attempts to rob a teniente.

Affairs in Rosario seem to be getting worse and worse daily, and if we are to credit a letter published by one of our colleagues, it would appear that the Indian invasions are being turned to some account by the politicians, as all the opponents of Sor. Oroño are being sent to the frontier. We incline to the belief that there must be some exaggeration in this, but still, from passengers who have come down from there, we learn that the city is convulsed, and that so great is the political excitement, life is almost insecure. We regret to see so thriving a city as Rosario in such a sad state; better have no Governor at all than that the place should be victimized by a set of rampant politicians. The plain fact of the matter is that we have too many elections in this country, and we shall invariably suffer from anarchy and confusion until some stop is put to these eternal elections.

The Argentine Shakspeares of the present day are becoming so numerous that they encounter the most serious difficulties in getting their compositions brought out on any of the Argentine boards. "Such is life," or Tal es el mundo, as the author calls it, has been read at the Circulo Literario, and well received. Subsequently the author sent the drama, giving the manager permission to produce it, but the people in the theatre declined the honor unless the author guaranteed to save them from all loss. Now this is extremely humiliating, and shows at what a very low ebb dramatic talent is in the River Plate. We believe that the subscribers of the Circulo Literario will be called on to assume the expense.

A most shocking case of rape has taken place at Quilmes: a little girl aged 8 years, daughter of a Basque, has been assaulted and forced by some ruffian whose name we have not heard. The subscriber who informed us of this scandalous case, states that as the criminal is a political character there is little prospect of his being punished.

Yesterday was another anxious day in town; the Paraguay steamer did not appear, and owing to the news published in the 'Reforma Pacifica' people began to believe that the "Paraguayans were coming." The Brazilian steamers which were to have gone up the Paraná were still in port, but in the night or early this morning they were to go up the rivers to find out how matters stood.

There seems now no longer any doubt as to the course Brazil purposes pursuing in the Oriental war. The Brazilians will not aid Flores, nor allow him to ally himself with them. The new Brazilian Minister Paranhos will, if hostilities have not already broken out, go up to Paraguay, to explain to Pres. Lopez the views of his Government. Sor. Paranhos is not at all liked by the 'colorado' patty, and many state that he is the best friend the Oriental Government has in Brazil.

The Island of Rats, in the Montevidean bay, is now occupied by the Italians, and the two Italian war steamers expected have at last arrived. It is said that M. Barbolani has received orders to fortify it, and put it in a complete state of defence. An Englishman, who has just arrived from Montevideo, states that people there generally believe that Flores and his friends are now completely lost, and that since Brazil discovered that the Foreign Powers objected to her taking the country, she is now determined to back out out of a war which promises so little.

The protests and demands sent in against the Brazilian Government, in consequence of the blockade, are amounting to enormous sums. Many persons insist that Sr. Paranhos, when he arrives here, which will be probably to-day or to-morrow, will at once raise the blockade.

The American war steamer Iriquois arrived in port yesterday from Rio. We have not heard the nature of her visit. Very possibly she looked into the River Plate to see if there were any Alabamas here.

The people in San Fernando are in the most miserable condition for the want of a doctor. The Municipality offers fifteen hundred dollars per month to any medical man who will go down and practice there. Will none of our medical friends go?

Yesterday a lamentable accident occurred to one of the Barracas coaches. An unruly gang of Basques got on top, the wheel came off, the driver got pitched in amongst the horses, which were kicking and prancing at a terrible rate, and the Basques got bruised heads on the pavement. Several were very dangerously wounded, but no one was killed.

A rather alarming fire took place in the Boca last Sunday, and but for the praiseworthy exertions of the neighbors, very probably the whole Boca would have been burned down; as it is, and notwithstanding every effort to extinguish the flames, five dwelling-houses were consumed; unfortunately the premises were not insured, and consequently the loss will be very severe.

Near the Plaza Constitucion there are more new buildings in course of construction than in any other part of the city. Several large vacant lots in Calle Buen Orden, near Calle Caseros, are now being walled in and turned into 'barracas' and 'corralones.' The South end of the town is beginning to show more life than the North, and as property is cheaper and business better, the southern streets offer the greatest inducements to those who have money to invest. It is high time, however that the 'corrales' should be removed, as they injure the neighborhood they are in very much.

The rain, we are happy to say, has been general, and from all quarters we receive the most encouraging accounts as to the grass and sheep. The thistles are, however, in some parts so thick that many farmers have been compelled to move their flocks to 'cañadas,' or valleys.

Sheep will probably be in very good demand this season, as there are hundreds of young men with capital waiting for the new year to rent land and sheep.

The Tevere is now all right again, her funnel is fixed, and she flies the Italian flag; she arrived yesterday morning from Montevideo with 46 passengers.

The despaired of Brazilian steamer Marquez de Olinda we hear had on board a great supply of ammunition and fire-arms, besides 100,000 silver dollars.

We have to thank Consul Parish for some official statements respecting the effect of Free-trade policy in Great Britain, which we will commence to publish to-morrow: they are highly interesting, and deserve the attention of Argentines no less than Englishmen.

The tramway of the Northern Railway was injured by the last gale and prevented from working, but is already re-opened for traffic.

Capt. Mansilla starts to-day for his Indian tour: we wish him every success and a safe return.

We perceive that the Spanish Government is in treaty far the colonization of a million Irishmen to be transported to Spain for agricultural labors

The 'Nacional' states that Sor. Barroso, 2nd in command of the Brazilian fleet, leaves to-day for Asuncion with 3 gun-boats; he will perhaps change his mind on reaching Humaytá.

In the same paper we read that D. José Marmol will leave for Rio Janeyro as special Argentine envoy, on Thursday or Friday.

The account of a prize-fight in yesterday's paper by mistake, appeared without indication of being communicated, although it was not editorial. We have since heard the whole story contradicted.

THE DUBLIN EXHIBITION OF 1865.

Our 'special correspondent' from Ireland takes the liberty to hint that the Argentine Republic is expected to contribute to the World's Fair, which will open next June in Dublin. He and his fellow-citizens are doomed to sad disappointment, as far as our Government is concerned, although we called attention to the matter several months ago. But we must cease to look for any such assistance from the Cabinet of Buenos Ayres, whose wishes for emigration and industrial development are neither zealous nor sincere. If the Emigration Board of Rosario consulted its interest, we should advise it to forward a collection of samples as proposed by Mr. Perkins; for people pay more attention to actual products than to all the flattering pamphlets got up for the purpose in divers European tongues.

As an instance of the value of exhibiting, we refer with pride to the counterpane of wild cotton sent by the editors of this paper to Manchester, and which has excited the admiration of the manufacturing world, as mentioned in the Times.

Now, the great business of Buenos Ayres is wool, which forms half the total export-value of the Republic, and admits of incalculable development by the introduction of fresh hands and capital into the country. It is therefore desirable that samples of our fleeces appear in the Dublin exhibition, and if our friends in the camp effectively aid us, we propose to supply the deficiency of Government; by forwarding at our own expense a collection of such samples to the Commissioners.

Each estanciero should contribute a fleece of wool, stating the class of sheep, the average weight of fleece, the price realized for the wool, and other interesting particulars. We may mention that there are several fleeces and other articles of native produce on exhibition at the Bolsa, where they are comparatively useless, but which could be turned to advantage in the manner indicated. Curers of beef might also do well by favoring us with specimens. In a word, all native or foreign producers of staple exports will serve themselves and the country by seconding our idea. Our Irish friends need scarcely be reminded of the great satisfaction their countrymen at home would experience by seeing "Sample from Mr. Kenny's estancia, Buenos Ayres," or the like, as well as Honorable Mention in the list of prizes. We will receive any articles for exhibition up to February, 1865.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY.

We have to congratulate our Scotch friends to-day, on the festival of the patron of their country, "Scotland and St. Andrew" was long the motto of North Britain, and it is to be regretted that the day is not still kept as a national festival.

St. Andrew was brother to the chief of the Apostles, and like St. Peter a fisherman of Galilee. He is said to have converted Scythia and Thessaly, and in the latter country was crucified by the Roman Pro-consul, his cross being shaped like an X. Both Greeks and Latins celebrate his feast on the 30th of November. At the church of St. Victor in Marseilles is shewn a cross said by tradition to be the identical instrument of the Apostle's martyrdom.

The manner of his election as patron of Scotland is thus related: in the 4th century, Regulus abbot of Patræ, where St. Andrew's bones were enshrined, was advised by a vision to set out with the relics for a foreign land, and being shipwrecked off the promontory of Fife, landed in that part of Scotland where the town of St. Andrew's now stands. Hungus, king of the Picts, was converted, and erected a church to receive the relics, around which subsequently sprung up a flourishing city and university.

The old chronicles, and even the recent novels of Grant and others, frequently mention the white cross of St. Andrew as the national ensign of Scotland. After the accession of James VI. of Scotland to the joint crown of Great Britain, the cross of St. Andrew was quartered with that of St. George of England, which formed the Union Jack or actual flag of the British empire.

The festival of St. Andrew is kept at Rome with great pomp: a grand High Mass is celebrated at the church of Sant' Andrea della Valle, and a dinner to all English residents is given at the Scotch College.

In the province of Buenos Ayres, St. Andrew is patron of the district of Giles.

IRELAND.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

Dublin, October 22.

There is much depression in commercial and trading circles here, consequent on the financial crisis in England. I am happy in recording the fact, however, that no failures have occurred here; and, generally, the prosperity of the country shows signs of improvement. The arrangements for the International Exhibition in Dublin next year are progressing favorably, and the undertaking promises to be a great success. Already the promises from English and continental manufacturers are most encouraging. The staple industries of every nation, will, it is thought, be represented in the exhibition; and I hope to find the varied products of the Argentine Republic fittingly displayed on the occasion. The exhibition will be held in the Winter Gardens, now in course of completion, on the ground formerly known as the Coburg Gardens.

The "International Prize-Fight," is to come off in Canada, for a sum of £1,000—Coburn paying the expenses of his opponent, Mace. The Irish Police authorities have received great and deserved praise for the measures adopted in stopping the brutal contest.

A movement is on foot to "nationalize" the streets of Dublin—Sackville-street to bear the name of O'Connell-parade; Grafton-Street, to be called Sarsfield-street, etc. The "Nation" has been engaged in a tough fight with the editor of a London sporting paper, who wrote as follows of Sackville-street:—"The houses, with only few exceptions, are more insignificant than those of a second-rate provincial town in England. And the population! Every fourth person is a wretched, dirty, and almost naked beggar—leprous-looking, and skulking along the pavement like a starved cur." This sporting editor having accompanied the pugilists to Dublin, the "Nation" describes his correspondence thus:—

"A mob of ugly rascals, pickpockets, cheats, and bullies, who had come over from England for the occasion, expecting to reap a golden harvest among the greenhorns round the prize-ring. Baulked of this opportunity for 'raising the wind,' it was only by great exertions the fellows contrived to beg and steal as much as paid their passage to the shores of the enlightened country whence they came. Arrived there, almost one of the first acts of one of the 'sporting editors' was to vilify the people of this city in terms which show at once his honesty, his taste, and his temper. This great personage was quite disgusted with the small estimation in which the pugilistic profession was held in Ireland. The writer above quoted makes fierce and abusive complaint of the 'incivility' of the Dublin waiters and carmen. He thought, probably, that they would be all obsequious to himself and his companions; but the men knew better than to show any marks of respect to such a set of rowdies. If these persons want to meet with popular respect and esteem, they must remain at home.

A people religiously educated as are the Irish—a people trained to the ennobling ideas of patriotism—a people who have listened to the teachings of O'Connell, Davis, Duffy, and John Martin will not degrade themselves into attendants of the prize-ring; they will not take to the worship of Jem Mace and Young Napper, or any of the other heroes of the fist."

The sentiments of the sporting editor do not represent the feeling generally held by the English people towards Ireland. The rapid intercommunication of the present day is silently removing many misconceptions and prejudices, and the Irish people are gaining the respect and confidence of influential classes in England. In a recent number of a London periodical 'O'Connell as an orator" was made the subject of a lengthened article. The writer was no friend of the great Emancipator, as you will perceive from the subjoined extract:

"Never, in all my experience of men, have I known one who had such power over the multitude, who so thoroughly ruled the people under him, who was so influential in swaying and controlling the minds and passions of his audience; or who had more completely within his grasp the reins of the political Pegasus. His scowl was terrible, his anathema withering, his revenge crushing. I have seen a description of Brougham and O'Connell, in which it was said Brougham scalped his enemies, while O'Connell contented himself with having killed them; but in my opinion Brougham never excelled O'Connell in the use of the scalping knife—

"He never brooked a single voice that chimed not with his own,
Or bore, when he had power to crush, a rival near the throne.
He never spared a friend or foe, if such could serve his turn;
As prone to flatter and to fawn, as curse, condemn, and spurn.
When was he ever known to hide or check his scathing hate?
Who bold enough again to brave his matchless "Billingsgate?"
Let poets paint the good and bad with an impartial pen—
The grandest, blandest, boldest, coldest, best and worst of men!

"I wrote the foregoing lines at the foot of a poem by Denis Florence M'Carthy, which I need not say was unlimited praise; and I ask any candid person to assert that any human being deserves such eulogium as this."

I will not stay to give a rejoinder to the above, but leave it to the consideration of your Irish readers, who still hold the memory of Ireland's great 'tribune' green in their hearts.

MONTEVIDEO.

The Teveré brings papers from Montevideo to Sunday morning. The most important news is the arrival of the Italian steam-frigates Ercole and Veloce, which have received a significant welcome from the Government and press of the city.

A fire broke out in a bakery in calle Convencion on Saturday evening, but the citizens and police succeded in getting the flames under. It was reported that one of the Brazilian gun-boats had gone aground in the Uruguay, and the pilot was put in irons.

Dates from Paysandú are to the 21st inst. Colonel Piris was south of the Queguay with Colonel Raña and the cavalry of the Salto garrison. Enrique Castro crossed the Rio Negro on the evening of the 20th in the direction of Sanchez. Leandro Gomez is hourly expected at Paysandú. Capt. Olivera was surprised and defeated by a small rebel force, escaping with a loss of 4 men.

Captain Romero with an escort of 7 men fell in with a band of 14 Colorados, who killed 4 of his party. Romero armed with a lance defended himself and covered the retreat of his son and two followers who made for an adjacent wood. Thus fighting and retiring for a distance of 1800 yards they found themselves hemmed in by a stream but resolutely plunged in, excepting Sergeant Escobar who surrendered at discretion and at once had his throat cut by the pursuers. Captain Romero and the remaining soldier reached the opposite bank, but his son was drowned, and the afflicted father reached the town with some difficulty being badly wounded.

There are letters from Salto to the 21st. The captain of the port at Concordia has by order of the Argentine Government prohibited any boats from passing over from Entre-Rios, so that all communication with that province is cut off. By latest accounts Flores was encamped at Cuchilla Peralta and about to march to the Brazilian head-quarters to join his forces with those of General Netto.

Private letters from Saa's army of reserve state that several stragglers from Caraballo's force, headed by Captain Burgos, were seen near Pando. Colonel Barrios pursued Caraballo as far as Valle Fuentes where the rebels were taken in flank by Col. Aparicio, but the extent of Caraballo's loss is not known.

THE LATE DUKE OF NEWCASTLE.

By the death of the Duke of Newcastle her Majesty loses another of the friends in whom she placed great confidence. His grace stood high in the Queen's estimation, and the manner in which he advised the Prince of Wales during his Royal Highness's tour through Canada, elicited her warmest approval. Immediately before the Duke left London fer Clumber, where he died on Wednesday evening, the Queen paid him a visit of sympathy, and his drooping spirits were raised by the gracious and kindly manner in which his Sovereign expressed her concern at his severe illness, and her wishes for his recovery. He was an amiable man, and in personal appearance a fitting representative of a ducal house. In office he worked hard, and probably the hardest task he ever had to accomplish was that of acquiring the proper pronunciation of Irish names of places. In his first speech as Secretary for Ireland he provoked a shout of laughter from the Irish members by his pronunciation of Mullingar and Ballinasloe, sounding the former as if terminating in "ger" with the "g" soft, and laying tremendous emphasis on the "as" in the latter, but before he had been three months at Dublin Castle he could pronouce "Ballyhaghdereen" and "Droughenackmy" with an unction that would not have disgraced any Milesian. He was a poor man for a duke, but he lived within his means.

SHERMAN'S DEPOPULATION OF ATLANTA.

The remonstrance of General Hood against General Sherman's order for the expulsion of the people of Atlanta has been supported by an appeal from the Mayor and two members of the council of that city.

To this appeal Sherman replied as follows,—

"I shall not revoke my orders, simply because my orders are not designed to meet the humanities of the case, but to prepare for the future struggle in which millions, yea, hundreds of millions of good people outside of Atlanta have a deep interest. We must have peace not only in Atlanta, but in all America. To secure this we must stop the war that now desolates our once happy and favored country. To stop war we must defeat the rebel armies that are arrayed against the laws and constitution, and which all must respect and obey. To defeat these armies we must prepare the way to reach them in their recesses, provided with the arms and instruments which enable us to effect our purpose. Now, I know the vindictive nature of our enemy, and that we may have many years of military operations from this quarter, and therefore deem it wise and prudent to prepare in time. . . . I cannot discuss this subject with you fairly, because I cannot impart to you what I propose to do; but I assert that my military plans make it necessary for the inhabitants to go away, and I can only renew my offer of services to make their exodus in any direction as easy and comfortable as possible. You cannot qualify war in harsher terms than I will. . . . You might as well appeal against the thunderstorm as against these horrible hardships of war. They are inevitable, and the only way the people of Atlanta can hope once more to live in peace and quiet at home is to stop this war, which can alone be done by admitting that it begun in error and is perpetuated in pride. We don't want your negroes, or your horses, or your houses, or your land, or anything you have; but we do want and will have a just obedience to the laws of the United States. That we will have, and if it involves the destruction of your improvements, we cannot help it. You have heretofore read public sentiment in your newspapers, that live by falsehood and excitement; and the quicker you seek for truth in other quarters the better for you. I repeat, then, that by the original compact of government the United States had certain rights in Georgia which have never been relinquished, and never will be; that the South began war by seizing forts, arsenals, mints, custom-houses,

&c., long before Mr. Lincoln was installed, and before the South had one jot or tittle of provocation. I myself have seen in Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Mississippi hundreds and thousands of women and children fleeing from your armies and desperadoes, hungry and with bleeding feet. In Memphis, Vicksburg, and Mississppi, we feed thousands upon thousands of the families of rebel soldiers left on our hands, and whom we could not see starve. Now that the war has come to you, you feel very different — you deprecate its horrors, but did not feel them when you sent cartloads of soldiers and ammunition, and moulded shells and shot to carry war into Kentucky and Tennessee, and desolate the homes of hundreds and thousands of good people, who only asked to live in peace at their old homes, and under the government of their inheritance. But these comparisons are idle.

"I want peace, and believe it can only be reached through union and war, and I will ever conduct war purely with a view to perfect and early success. But, my dear sirs, when that peace does come, you may call on me for anything. Then will I share with you the last cracker, and watch with you to shield your homes and families against danger from every quarter. Now, you must go, and take with you the old and feeble; feed and nurse them, and build for them in more quiet places proper habitations to shield them against the weather, until the mad passions of men cool down, and allow the union and peace once more to settle on your old homes at Atlanta."

WOOL MARKET.

New York, September 2nd, 1864.

The movement in the Home Clip has been moderately large, and in some classes at advancing prices, all medium and coarse grades suitable for Army Clothing are particularly demanded, and at prices that have, in some instances passed beyond the value of fine descriptions, they being placed without difficulty at 95 cts. to $1.05, and even some parcels at $1.15 per lb. It is estimated that ¾ of all the American Clip has passed from hands of the farmers to those of manufacturers and speculators, and that only ¼ remains with growers, being the exact reverse of last season's Clip. Additional impetus would have been given to the purchases by manufacturers, had they not been impeded in their work by the want of water, the season having been one of great heat and consequent drought.

In all Foreign Combing or Worsted Wools, there is improved inquiry and an animated trade. All such as are suited also to Blankets and Carpet purposes are dearer, and with a much diminished stock and impossibility of Importations being made profitable by reason of the increased duties. Such descriptions which had paid the smaller duty under the old Tariff have been readily disposed of. Among those we may class Cordova, Entre Rios, Rio Grande, Donskoi and Peruvian, together with Provence and Mediterranean Wools generally, but the advance in prices does not yet warrant the entry of fresh parcels under the new duty, and such as are arriving are placed in Bond. Some few Cordova have been sold at 80 cts. per lb., which leaves a loss on the importation.

In Mestiza, there has been a complete stand, and few of good quality have been realized. Some very ordinary low grades, that were adapted to mix with coarse fabrics, have found purchasers, but being generally of the remnant of old stock and small in quantity, have attracted much attention. The finer grades of which the bulk of the Stock is composed are not offered, no importer feeling any disposition to force the sale at a time like the present, when the prices must be governed by the American Fleeces. It cannot be replaced at a difference of full 15 cts. per lb. over the present cost of the present stock, the difference of duty being 5 1-10 cts. Gold per lb., and besides Manufacturers do not usuallly supply themselves with the discription till later in the season, and the American Clip has been well broken into. From American they usually go to Cape Good Hope sorts, that are free from burr and work easier, and the last they take are those of the province of Buenos Ayres which, being more burry than others, are least desirable.

The Wools of the Banda Oriental are more desirable; they are of burr, of greater length of staple, will yield more clean Wool, seldom leaving less than 40 lbs. clean out of each 100 lbs. and finish well; this last is a great merit in the Buenos Ayres Wool, the goods made from such always receive a better finish than the finest and best American.

It is very evident that, in the coming season in the River Plate, the American buyers cannot be so different in price paid as heretofore. They must attend carefully to the rate of duty their shipments will be subjected to; and it is our opinion that unless your prices, on the opening of the Clip, shall rule such as to bring the Wools of the finest description here at a duty of not over 3 cts. per lb., the purchases on American account will be very limited or at least much lessened as compared with previous years. Very true, there will be some little demand by the Agents of Manufacturers, but by no means in comparison to what it has been in former years.

We annex quotations of various classes of Wools, as stipulated by the latest transactions, remarking that the market is exceedingly unequal and sensitive, and regulated very much by the changes in the prices of Gold, which, since the rapid advance of 100 per cent., has not worked favorably to any description of Imported Goods.

Specie appeared a little weaker today and the bears were in the ascendant, but notwithstanding the efforts made to drive specie down, they fell but five centissimos.

Respecting the non-arrival of the Paraguayan steamer, many were disposed to think that her detention was owing to accident more than anything else, particularly as only a couple of months ago the Salto de Guayra was detained for more than fifteen days, having run aground in the Parana.

Others who pretend to a superior knowledge concerning Paraguayan affairs assert that Argentines may prepare themselves for the worst, as trustworthy news had been received in Montevideo advising the passing of troops.

There are many who believe that a solution of the Oriental question is at hand, and that Minister Paranhos is coming for no other purpose than to restore peace. The uncertain state of affairs, however, seem to affect specie less than the public bonds which cannot be quoted to-day at higher than 38.

The wool markets displayed an activity which would lead many to suppose that heavy orders were received by the packet; in the south plaza one lot sold for 97, one for 95, and one for 93. In the plaza 11 Setiembre a lot was sold for $100, and we heard of a wool from the Magdalena for which 107 was offered and refused. In the south plaza there is not much wool, but in the north there is hardly room for the carts.

Respecting the news from Europe, received per last packet, about which there is so great a diversity of opinion, we think it right to say that by the late telegrams received at Lisbon, it would appear the markets were improving. There is one gentleman in town who has a telegram from Liverpool dated 27th Oct., in which it is stated that the market was looking better but that another house had failed. We have not heard the name of the house but believe it is known here.

The Provincial Bank, we understand, imitating the London and River Plate Blank, will raise its rate of interest to-morrow, and we believe the Mauá Bank will do the same. The Banks are contracting greatly, and both paper and gold are in active demand.

The business on the Bolsa to-day, was unusually light, considering that it was so near the close of the month, but specie business has been greatly restricted during the present month. The 'vencimentos,' or amount of transactions to be closed on the 31st October, was three millions of patacons, whilst the amount due on the 30th November hardly reaches one and a-half millions.

No. 103 Calle de Cangallo,
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and will open a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo. from Nine a.m till Three p.m on Week Days, and on Sundays and Holidays from Ten a.m. to Twelve m., for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres, September 19, 1863.

P.p. Mauá and Co.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishes, can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

CAUTION.—The Patentees having established the validity of their Patent, in an action tried on the 29th and 31st days of June, instant, in the Court of Common Pleas at Westminster, before Lord Chief Justice Erle and a Special Jury, in which Ellwood and another, of No. 24 Great Charlotte-st., Blackfriars Road, in the Borough of Southwark Wholesale Hat Manufacturers, were Plaintiffs; and Christy and others, of No. 35 Gracechurch-street, in the City of London, also Wholesale Hat Manufacturers, were Defendants; and, the Jury having by their verdict found that the above-named Defendants had infringed the Plaintiffs' Patent, and that the invention was new in England and in India at the date of the Letters Patent—We, the above named Plaintiffs, do hereby give notice to all Manufacturers, Dealers in, and Sellers of Hats, Caps, or Helmets, that we shall proceed by suit in Chancery against all persons so manufacturing, dealing in, or selling Hats, Caps, or Helmets, constructed on the principle of "Ellwood's Patent Air Chamber Hat," unless the previous consent of the Patentees be obtained, at the same time reserving to ourselves the right of taking proceedings against prior infringers.

Rams—Rams—Rams.

The undersigned, in calling attention to his large and superior stock of Rams and Breeding Sheep, begs to inform his Friends in the Camp that he has on hands a splendid collection of animals, from Three Hundred to Five Thousand Dollars, m/c., and is confident that each in its class will compete with anything in the province.

In the "Rambouillet type" will be found some fine specimens of the pure blood, besides crossings from the "Merino," possessing the size, shape, and length of staple for which this class is so much admired.

In the "Negrettes" he has also some beautiful animals of pure blood, as likewise the "Negrette" drawn from the "fine Merino," a "Cria" remarkable for compact shape and close heavy wool.

In addition to the above he wishes to draw especial attention to his celebrated Argentine breed, between the "Rambouillet" and "Negrette Ewe," and which, after seven years' experience, he can fully recommend as combining size and shape with length and weight of wool—qualities so anxiously looked for by all experienced sheepfarmers, and which have given so much satisfaction to those who have already purchased of this class. In buying the above in half, three-quarter, and pure blood, already acclimatised, there is an immense advantage, as Rams raised in this country are not so delicate and withstand the winter better than imported animals, besides being sold much cheaper, and only requiring ordinary care.

He can likewise supply the above classes in Ewes, either picked or by the hundred, and wishes to remark that all have been in prime condition throughout the past summer.
